

michael a. swartzbeck illustration and design

Illustration

- In 2008, illustrated the Guide To Green And Just Celebrations for Jews United for Justice, a progressive non-profit headquartered in Washington, DC.
- Illustrated and designed The Word on the Street, a newsletter for tenants and tenant organizers, published by ONE DC (Organizing Neighborhood Equity), a public-housing/tenants' advocacy non-profit located in Washington, DC (ongoing since 2004).
- In 2004, illustrated and designed Building by Building, a public-housing tenants' organizing handbook published by ONE DC.
- Between 2000 and 2004, produced cover art and illustrations for The Progressive magazine of Madison, Wisconsin.
- Between 1992 and 1994, created cover art for several issues of the Journal of the National Association of Desktop Publishers of Boston, Massachusetts, a trade magazine for electronic design professionals.
- Between 1987 and 1992, contributed frontispiece and article illustrations for VERBUM Magazine of San Francisco, California, a digital arts and design journal.
- Between 1986 and 1989, contributed illustrations for The MACazine of Austin, Texas, a general-interest magazine for Macintosh users.

Design

- As a designer/illustrator/consultant, designed and illustrated newsletters, brochures, posters, t-shirts, annual reports, branding and other print collateral for ONE DC, since 2004.
- In 2008, designed event advertising, and print collateral for Operation Understanding, a non-profit working to improve Black-Jewish relations in Washington, DC.
- In 2008, designed event invitations, event advertising, program books, branding, and other print collateral for Jews United for Justice.
- As a designer/art director for UAQA, LLP of Takoma Park, Maryland, responsible for Web design and print collateral for the Maryland Education Department's "school improvement" program, the Wisconsin Education Department's "Successful Schools Guide", the nonprofit Center for Science in the Public Interest, and others, since 1998.

www.swartzbeck.com

mike@swartzbeck.com

214 5th St. NE, Washington DC

202.547.6217

- As Senior Designer for EPI Communications of Rockville, Maryland, redesigned Web sites for clients such as Planning Systems Corporation of McLean, VA, as well as that for EPI itself.
- As Senior Designer/Tech Coordinator at Aspen Systems Corporation of Rockville, Maryland, attended seminars/trade shows related to current and future design technology and recommended hardware/software for the design department, while also designing a wide variety of client newsletters, advertising and collateral and designing the first Web sites for these clients as well as the first official Web site for Aspen Systems itself.

Technical Expertise

- In several positions, established or enhanced in-house computer graphics shops, selected hardware and software and trained staff in their use, and provided technical support.
- Wrote and illustrated articles for computer graphics publications, including “Working in Layers”, a chapter on photomontage in Verbum’s Book of Scanned Imagery; a tutorial on the use of “autotrace” utilities to convert scanned under-drawings into finished PostScript art, for the Journal of the National Association of Desktop Publishers; paint/photo-editing software reviews for The MACazine; and an extensive tutorial in draw programs and PostScript in the context of a design “make-over” for Step-By-Step Design.
- Proficient in a wide variety of design and illustration programs including Photoshop, PageMaker/InDesign, FreeHand, Dreamweaver, Flash, and Adobe Creative Suite on both MacOSX and Windows platforms.

Employment History

- 10/2004-present–Designer/Illustrator/Consultant, ONE DC, Washington, DC.
- 3/1998-present–Senior Designer/Art Director, UAQA LLP, Takoma Park, MD.
- 9/1997-3/1998–Senior Designer, EPI Communications, Rockville, MD.
- 12/1990-5/1997–Senior Designer/Tech Coordinator, Aspen Systems Corporation, Rockville, MD.
- 4/1980-12/1990–In several positions as a Junior Illustrator, Designer, and Senior Designer, assumed roles of increasing challenge and responsibility in the areas of design and digital technical assistance and coordination.

Education

- Radford College, Virginia, Bachelor of Fine Arts Program, 1977-79.
- Northern Virginia Community College, Associate in Applied Sciences Program, Commercial Art/Illustration, 1975-77.

www.swartzbeck.com

mike@swartzbeck.com

214 5th St. NE, Washington DC

202.547.6217